

✨ Something Sacred This Way Comes ✨

After 50 years of discovering profound truths around gaming tables, I'm finally ready to share what I've learned:

Your character's journey IS your spiritual journey.

I'm launching Transformative Storytelling: Personal Growth Through Roleplay - a learning community where we explore how TTRPGs become tools for authentic spiritual development.

This is for you if:

- You've ever felt braver as your character than as yourself
- You've cried real tears over a fictional death
- You've learned something about your values through character choices
- You've found family around gaming tables when the world felt too harsh
- You're curious about using storytelling for personal growth

What We Offer:

- ✨ Weekly educational content on transformative storytelling techniques
- ✨ Safe community for exploring character-to-self connections
- ✨ Free storytelling sessions (max 5 players for intimate growth)
- ✨ Advanced workshops for deeper exploration
- ✨ Resources and support from a certified religious counselor with decades of TTRPG experience

Important Notes:

This is spiritual guidance and peer education, not therapy. I'm a pagan priest and ULC-certified religious counselor sharing what I've learned about storytelling as spiritual practice.

18+ community exploring deep themes with care, consent, and respect.

✨ Ready to discover what your characters have been trying to teach you?

We start with free community sessions - no experience required, just curiosity about your own growth.

Join us: [\[Discord Link Here\]](#)

Sometimes the most profound healing happens when we dare to become someone else long enough to discover who we really are.

Welcome home, travelers. Your next chapter begins here. 🏠

#TTRPGs #PersonalGrowth #SpiritualDevelopment #DnD #WorldOfDarkness #Gaming #Community
#StorytellingHeals #TransformativeRoleplay #SacredStory