

Choose Your Learning Path | Roles & Commitment

Welcome, traveler.

In this space, we offer different roles to honor where you are on your journey and how deeply you wish to engage with personal growth through storytelling and roleplay.

Roles Available

Player

For those who want to engage with weekly storytelling sessions, community discussions, and exploring personal insights through character work.

- Free community role
- Access to general channels and weekly storytelling discussions
- Participation in community roleplay sessions and character exploration

Storyteller

For those who run games, facilitate groups, or wish to integrate these storytelling techniques into their own tables.

- Access to facilitator resources and technique guides
- Dedicated storyteller discussions and educational materials
- Expectation: you hold your tables with care, consent, and integrity using the methods we teach

Advanced Learner (Intensive Workshop Role)

For those ready to participate in intensive, small-group workshops focused on deeper storytelling techniques for personal insight.

- Includes access to advanced technique channels
- Participation in intensive storytelling workshops ($5/seat commitment fee)
- Access to specialized learning resources and integration materials

Before Choosing Advanced Learner

This is not just casual gaming.

This is not entertainment to consume and discard.

This is intensive learning using TTRPG frameworks to explore:

- Your personal patterns and growth edges
- Your emotional responses and healing journey
- Your potential and hidden strengths through character work

Choosing the Advanced Learner path means:

- You are ready to engage actively and honestly in learning these techniques
- You have support systems in place outside of these workshops
- You understand this is education in storytelling methods, not therapy
- You are committed to your learning journey, even when techniques bring up challenging emotions

Final Reflection

Ask yourself: Am I ready to learn transformative storytelling techniques, or am I seeking entertainment to escape?

Neither answer is wrong. Both are valid. But clarity about your learning goals is essential.

Getting Started

Drop your chosen role in #introductions along with:

- Your name or RPG alias
- Your role choice (Player, Storyteller, Advanced Learner)
- One word for what you hope to learn on this journey

We are honored to explore these storytelling techniques with you. Welcome to our learning community.
